The quartet consists of four Christian musicians: Dr. Marcio Candido, Dr. Alisson Unglaub, Dr. Rogerio Nunes, and Dr. Cherry Kim. Together, they unite their talents for a divine purpose, performing music for the glory of God as well as taking Classical music to a broader audience.

With a repertoire that encompasses hymns and classical music, they strive to deliver performances that deeply touch the soul. Since 2020, they have performed extensively across the United States, from Arizona to Boston, and even Alaska.

THE DREAM

Since his youth Dr. Alisson Unglaub has dreamt of creating a professional ensemble that would elevate instrumental music blending classical and sacred music. Being a violinist and a lover of chamber music, he began envisioning the formation of a prominent string quartet. Multiple factors compelled him to push this project forward. Among those factors are the lack of high-quality instrumental groups in Christian circles, and consequently, the decline of availability of this type of music in the church.

The need for instrumental groups that can inspire all generations, introduce music with a classical taste to new audiences, and foster appreciation for classical ensembles has become increasingly apparent. As time went on, Dr. Unglaub realized that the task would be more challenging than anticipated. The task of finding three other individuals who not only are Christians but also are willing to embrace the project, share the same passion and vision and, on top of it all, are highly skilled professionals proficient in the instruments required to form a string quartet seemed nearly impossible. After much prayer, God opened unimaginable doors and brought Dr. Alisson into contact with three exceptionally qualified musicians, whose talents surpassed his expectations. Dr. Marcio Candido, Dr. Rogerio Nunes, and Dr. Cherry Kim gladly joined the project. Finally, four Christians with a shared vision, enthusiasm for the project, and remarkable skill sets. It would have been perfect if they all lived nearby. However, the fact that Mr. Marcio resided in Alaska, Mr. Unglaub in Arizona, Mr. Nunes in Texas, and Mrs. Kim in Massachusetts did not deter them from moving the project forward.

Doors were opened, and they received funding for their first series of concerts in Arizona. They rehearsed together, performed together, and met in person for the first time only four days before the inaugural concert. It was a success. The ensemble blended beautifully, got along very well, and most importantly, the audience was blessed and demonstrated great appreciation. The seemingly impossible dream became a reality, and the Arcada String Quartet was formed. The four members were thrilled and committed to keeping the project alive despite the barriers of distance.

Soon after the initial concert series in January 2020, the pandemic lockdown broke out, preventing them from organizing more performances. However, as soon as circumstances allowed, they resumed their activities and performed in various locations, including Boston and Alaska. Now the dream continues with the goal of releasing an album featuring the highest quality arrangements in a state-of-the-art production, expanding their ministry.

EXPERIENCE OUR MUSIC IN YOUR AREA!

You can have us play at your church, event, or local community! When we schedule a tour, we usually perform at 3-4 different venues, which helps distribute the costs making it more affordable. Since the four of us live in different parts of the country (Anchorage, AK; Phoenix, AZ; Dallas, TX; and Boston, MA), we typically arrive 2-3 days in advance to rehearse together for the series of concerts or church services. Our programs can be entirely sacred, entirely classical, or a blend of classical and sacred pieces, including professional-quality arrangements of hymns.

Performance Fee: Our standard performance fee is $4,000 plus travel and accommodation expenses, which helps cover travel, preparation, and ministry support.

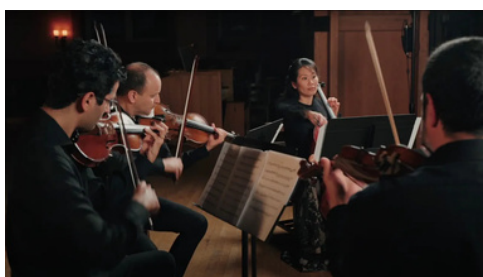

Do not hesitate to get in touch with us for more information and details. Find our contact information on the last page of this booklet.

BRAND NEW ALBUM

Prepare to embark on a transformative musical experience as the Arcada String Quartet presents their highly anticipated debut album, "He is Exalted". This project beautifully blends the rich heritage of classical music with a sacred mission—to worship God, spread the Gospel, and bring classical compositions to a wider audience. Through meticulously crafted arrangements and masterful performances, all are invited to immerse themselves in the power and beauty of instrumental worship.

It is widely acknowledged that producing an album requires substantial effort, dedication, and financial resources, particularly for a project aiming for the highest quality. Our objectives are to enhance the quality of instrumental music in the Church, inspire younger generations, generate greater interest, provide education, and connect individuals with limited access to classical music due to various reasons. By pursuing this goal, we hope to uplift the musical experience within the Christian community and foster a deeper appreciation for classical music.

To make this vision a reality we launched a fundraising campaign in which we were able to pay for initial expenses for the recording and audio editing process. With God's help we were able to launch the album in September 2024 and it has been very well accepted.
